The Therapeutic Writing Network had its official launch today in Chatham, Ontario. We would like to thank the local media for expressing interest in this unique business initiative.

Although the site is now open, we will not be officially starting our courses until November 7th. In the meantime, take a look around the website, and see what we have to offer. Please note that we are still in the process of updating some of the features and content of the website. You might want to bookmark the website and check in regularly. The first two courses that we have ready to go for the 7th are Grimm's for Grown-up Girls by Joanne Martin, founder of C-Change, and Pathways to Parenting, by Dave Flook, Founder of Not all Dads are Deadbeats.

We will be adding a downloadable press and media kit for facilitators and media outlets.

Here is the link to the Chatham Daily News article about the launch.
